a brief bio BarronvonBerg is a collaboration between Greg Barron and Sue Berg. It was formed in 2002 and is currently based in Torrington ct. We have incorporated a variety of older technology as we believe in recycling and the value of the history it provides. We have also stated to work with alternative energy.

greg barron | Computer consultant, technical specialist, programmer, digital photographer, graphic designer. Greg provides ideas, experimentation, advanced technical knowledge, aesthetic exchange, mutual support and determination.

sue berg | Graphic Design instructor, time-based media artist, web designer. Sue brings ideas, aesthetic exchange, experimentation, idealism, background, mutual support and determination. She holds an MFA from Maine College of Art in New Media together || We work to further an ever changing art form, this work helps us make sense of a world bombarded by technological change. The process of understanding technology itself feeds the creative energy. This energy is recycled back into work that manifests experience into tangible objects, thus putting it (experience) back out in another form.
